At the last Annual Meeting of the voters in District No. 1, the Board of Education was instructed to purchase the Brooks lot, provided it could be secured for what it had cost Dr. Frost. In accordance with these instructions the lot was bought for $1,525, but as no money was raised with which to pay for it, this amount stands as a debt against the District. The house on the southern part of the lot is rented for enough to pay a moderate rate of interest on the purchase money, but it is old and out of repair, and some policy in regard to it should be settled upon, either to repair it soon, or to remove it when it shall no longer be habitable.

The desirability of a play ground is now much more apparent than when our school house was built, and if the number of pupils increases so that it shall become necessary to enlarge the school building, this lot would be greatly needed, in fact it would be practically a necessity. Shade trees should be set out around it, and it has been suggested that property owners near it would probably claim the privilege of doing this at their own expense. The ground should also be graded, though this is not essential at present. We congratulate the voters of the District on their wisdom in ordering the purchase of the entire lot; such a beautiful play-ground cannot fail to exert an excellent influence on the school, and it is sure to become an ornament and a source of pride and pleasure to our whole village, and especially to the portion near it.

For some years there has at times been a question about the sanitary arrangements of our school building, and at the last annual meeting an extra amount was voted to make needed improvements in the basement. As much of this money as was needed has been expended in putting in water closets; these seem to be a perfect success, and remove all apprehension in regard to the unhealthiness of the building. Details of this, and various other matters of interest and importance will be laid before the annual meeting.

On Jan. 1st, 1890, the law, requiring the town to furnish free text books and school supplies, went into operation, thus removing a heavy burden from many parents. This law is said to have operated successfully elsewhere, and will no doubt be a success in New Hampshire.

While we live in the midst of books, they are not accessible to the majority of our scholars. In the school building we have a fair number of reference books, bought by the District, some miscellaneous books, donated to the school, and a few purchased with money raised by the scholars themselves.

The school naturally develops a love for reading, but it is a question whether this is not a positive curse, if the reading is to be limited to the cheap and vile trash which so easily falls into the hands of young people. Let a taste for good reading be formed at school and the dime novel will lose its charm. We would recommend that a small annual appropriation be made for enlarging our school library, we are sure it would be a wise expenditure.

Attractive and convenient buildings, books, maps, apparatus of various kinds, are of course important, but the essentials of a school are teachers and pupils, and if it is to be of the best, trained and experienced teachers, and willing pupils. To secure skilled teachers, liberal salaries must be paid.—To many, these often seem large, especially as the hours in the school room are few as compared with the time demanded in many occupations. It should however be remembered that many hours daily are given to school work outside the school room, that time and money are necessary in preparing the teacher, and that the work is exhausting, and demands sound health and calm nerves if it is to be long continued. In our own schools during the past few years, several teachers have been forced to temporarily give up work on account of exhausted strength and nervous energy. This has been the case this term with Miss Thompson of the Grammar School. For some time we have been able to secure well-trained teachers, though all have not had the amount of experience which seems to us desirable. In many cases however, we have not been able to keep them very long. At the close of the spring term, all our teachers, for various reasons, declined a re-election.

In compliance with what seemed the prevailing sentiment of those most interested, it was decided to engage a man as principal of the High School, and the board were fortunate enough to secure the services of Mr. J. I. Buck, who graduated from the college with honor in June last. Mr. Buck had had considerable experience in teaching, and has fully justified the high expectations we had formed of his success. He is a very superior man for the place, and we hope to be able to retain his services; to do this however, his salary must be raised. For the place in the Grammar School, so ably filled for some years by Miss Clarke, we engaged Miss Kate H. Thompson, a graduate of the Bridgewater, Mass., Normal School. She proved an unusually active, energetic, faithful and conscientious teacher, but on account of ill health was forced to give up her place near the middle of the current term, and the school is now temporarily in charge of Mr. Charles H. Gould, a college student, who seems to be doing excellent work. The place in the Intermediate Department, in which Miss Coleman had labored so successfully, was filled by the appointment of Miss Nina P. Tuell, an enthusiastic, accomplished and very successful teacher. The brilliant work that Miss Rich had been doing in our Primary School, made it seem especially difficult to fill her place; and besides, it is generally much easier to find a competent teacher for advanced pupils than for young children, and it was only after diligent search on the part of the Chairman of our Board, that we secured as Miss Rich's successor, Miss Annie L. Davis, who, as well as Miss Tuell is a recent graduate of our State Normal School. In this choice we were especially fortunate, since Miss Davis proves to be a very superior teacher.

The number in the Primary School being still very large, the plan of dividing it into two divisions, the older pupils attending in the morning, the younger in the afternoon, has been continued during the past year; more could no doubt be accomplished, by having an additional room and an extra teacher so that all the pupils could be in school the whole day, and it is for the voters to determine whether it is on the whole advisable to make a change in this respect at present. We bespeak for our teachers, in the difficult positions which they occupy, the active help and support of the parents, who can do much toward keeping the schools up to a high standard of excellence.

To the tax-payers we would say, we appreciate your liberality in appropriating sufficient money that we may maintain schools of a high order, and this we have tried to do, and to expend the money as economically as possible.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.

In reviewing the school year the result, though not perfectly satisfactory, is as good as could be expected. The diploma received at some High School is not a certain guaranty that the recipient is a qualified instructor. Good judgment, a good knowledge of human nature, an aptness to teach with a love for the work, when backed by a thorough knowledge of the branches to be taught, together with a general fund of information that will serve to illustrate and explain the different topics, is the combination of qualities which we all would like our teachers to possess. Such a combination is exceedingly rare ; when found the possessor's services will naturally command a higher remuneration than we with our limited means are allowed to give.

Our schools are not perfect, sparse population, limited appropriations, lack of proper apparatus, indifferent parents, all combine to render them far from it ; yet we feel assured that this years' progress will compare favorably with that of former years. While all our teachers have striven to do good work, yet necessarily must there be different degrees of excellence. While we do not wish to speak disparagingly of any, most are deserving of praise for their faithful and untiring labors. After studying carefully the working of our school system, we have been forced to the following conclusions : No school board or teacher can make it a complete success without the hearty co-operation of parents and scholars. And now the question comes home to every parent, am I doing what I ought for the best good of my children? Ought we not to lengthen our schools, giving of our means, and stimulate both teachers and pupils to still greater exertions, by our sympathy and interest in, and personal oversight of their work.

In extenuation of the imperfectness of our report, we are obliged to plead limited time, and the fact that our schools have not all closed, and the registers from others have not been returned at the time of the making out of this report.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
